

Overview

The Secabo TC5 and TC7 folding presses can now be converted to a convenient double-plate transfer press with the Secabo slide. The stable slide is screwed to the transfer press in a few easy steps. The slide is based on the well-known Secabo quickcoupler principle and can be pushed into the respective end positions on the left and right of the handle with little effort. Included in the delivery is a beam adapter to continue using the original base plate of the transfer press. In addition, all removable plates in the range fit on the slide. These are available separately and can be mounted and removed in seconds.
